New Brunswick Senior Wrestlers Successful on the Mats in Vancouver & Montreal

Fredericton – November 2, 2015

New Brunswick wrestlers claimed a number of medals at tournaments in Vancouver, British Columbia, and Montreal, Quebec this past week. Athletes from the Black Bears Wrestling Club, located in Fredericton, fielded teams at both the Simon Fraser University Invitational in Vancouver, and the Concordia University Invitational in Montreal. A combined total of nine medals were earned at the events by the senior athletes.

Amongst the medal winners were Samantha Stewart - Women's 53kg – and Alex Brown-Therriault – Men's 85kg. Both athletes claimed Gold at the Simon Fraser University Invitational. Shawn Daye-Finley – Men's 74kg – earned a Bronze at the event, while Allyssa Cleaves finished in 4th place.

In Montreal, Mario Tran – Men's 54kg – and Darrion Sterling – Women's 72kg – led the way with a pair of gold medals. Grayson St-Laurent – Men's 90kg – Alex Thoms – Men's 100kg – and heavyweight Cj Thoms finished the tournament with Silvers, while Kennedy MacIsaac – Women's 48kg - earned the lone Bronze in Montreal. Amanda Eng – Women's 48kg – Andrew Sandford – Men's 65kg – and Matt Short ended the event in 4th place, and David Gillis – Men's 65kg – finished in 6th place.

Many of these athletes will be back on the mats this week at the Bill Farrell International in New York, USA. Lutte New Brunswick would like to congratulate all wrestlers on their achievements at both the events.
